

Siegfried included in the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Europe

Siegfried is proud to announce that it has been selected for the first time as a member of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) Europe, in recognition of its commitment to and implementation of sustainable business practices. The DJSI is a widely recognized standard for measuring corporate environmental, social, and governance (ESG) progress across industries.

Wolfgang Wienand, CEO Siegfried: "We are very happy to be among the sustainability leaders in our industry. The first-time inclusion in the DJSI Europe is a great recognition for our targeted efforts since many years. We take this appreciation also as a confirmation for how we are running our company and as motivation to continue on our ambitious ESG journey."
